POLITICAL REVIEW

Facts from the Records---Mr. Imler's Letter Analyzed---Mr. Guyer's Mis-statements Pointed Out---Steward Henderson's Reply to Dr. Wolf's Letter--Shaffer's Record.

As the time to determine who shall have charge of the affairs of Bedford County for the next four years—who shall spend the taxpayers' money and how they shall spend it—is but a few days off, it is the duty of every citizen of Bedford County to sit down and calmly consider the claims of those who seek to have control of the county's business affairs.

It becomes our duty to answer, first of all, an admixture of statements made during the campaign in the papers that owe their very existence to the Penrose Machine in Pennsylvania and the Reynolds Annex in Bedford County. In the middle of the first page of last week's Inquirer, appears an answer of JOSEPH P. IMLER to The Gazette's account of his suit against the County of Bedford, in which he attempted to collect One Thousand One Hundred Nineteen Dollars and Fourteen Cents for taking 24 insane inmates of the Bedford County Almshouse to the Asylum at Harrisburg.

In his "answer" Mr. Imler says, referring to the papers which printed the article:

"They fail to tell you that this bill was prepared by my counsel for the purpose of having the question of the Sheriff's fees adjudicated by the court in the fee bill under which I was compelled to operate, and which had not been construed by the courts on account of having been enacted by the Legislature shortly before my term of office began. This was not only for my benefit but for the officers in charge of the county's affairs for their guidance in the future to know what the legal fees and expenses in similar cases should be. For this reason, it was necessary to include all items that could in any way pertain to the case, and the only way to get the matter before the court was an appeal from the action of the County Auditors."

The Gazette has twice printed the record of Mr. Imler's suit, and that it may be referred to by those who read this article we again print it in this issue.

Let us look at the facts and see if the suit was brought for the purpose of having "the question of the Sheriff's fees adjudicated by the Court."

When "friendly" suits are brought to obtain a judicial ruling on a questionable point, they go up to the court without delay; there is no reason for delay as both parties are anxious to know the law and to obey it, neither is there any reason for a "compromise." There is nothing to compromise in a "friendly suit," the questions are, "What is right and lawful?" If Mr. Imler's counsel framed the bill for the purpose of adjudication, why was that adjudication not obtained? Why the compromise for $469.20? Turn to the bill and allow him all expenses to which he was entitled.

Allow Him (see his bill on page 3)—

Two writs	$ 2.00
Cab hire at Bedford	16.00
24 commitments at $1 each	24.00
156 miles for each of the 24 patients at 6c	224.64
Meals for patients	7.20
Meals and lodging for assistants	10.85
7 assistants 2 days at $2 each	28.00
Carfare, 7 assistants	42.28
Cab hire at Harrisburg	14.00
Telephone message	90
Telegraphing	47
Add 312 miles, Sheriff, at 10c	31.20
	$401.54

What sort of figuring was done to secure $469.20 by a compromise? Figures don't lie, and Mr. Imler admits the accuracy of the bill as printed twice in The Gazette, and repeated this week.

Note in the above that Mr. Imler received 6 cents a mile for each patient, a profit to him of 4 cents, by using mileage which he did, on each mile and amounting to $149.76 on the 24 patients. He also received 10 cents a mile each way for himself, which cost him but two cents, hence he gained eight cents a mile or $24.96. The $24 for commitments was also all profit. Add these together and they amount to $198.72 which was his compensation, less his boarding and lodging, for two days' work! Was it not ample? What think you, Mr. Taxpayer? Was it enough? Why then did he exact $67.66 additional in the compromise, making his actual gain, his personal gain, for two days' work $266.38. How does this look to you, Mr. Taxpayer? Then consider that he wanted $649.94 more!

Is Joseph P. Imler the stripe of man to handle Bedford County's money?

His further statement about "necessary expenses" is but bosh and is an effort to attract attention from what he did get and what he tried to get. Our calculation allows him all the expenses to which he refers, and the cold fact stands out in bold relief that by the settlement he secured a net profit of $266.38 for two days' work and tried to get $649.94 more, which would have made his profit $916.32. Think it over!

MR. GUYER'S LETTER

Facts Show that With More Entries He Paid the County Less than Mr. Derrick.

The same page of the same paper contains a letter from Albert S. Guyer to the voters of the county in which he tries to justify the decided falling off in the receipts of the office.

In this office, as well as the Recorder office, any amount of fees in excess of $2000.00 is divided between the office and the County equally, so that the greater the excess the more income both for the County and the official.

This is true.

The receipts of the office depend on the amount of business that is brought into it, which the officer is not able to increase nor diminish. An examination of the Dockets will show that there have been fewer entries of judgments, fewer cases for trial, and a smaller number of cases in the Courts of Quarter Session, Oyer and Terminer, and the Orphans' Court.

The records do not show that this statement is true.

The auditor's report for 1906, Mr. Derrick's first year, shows 650 judgments, 4 writs of certiorari, 39 original writs, 1 Sci. Fa. Mechanics lien, 8 transcripts and 10 appeals; total of entries, 710. County's share of surplus, $408.01. The auditor's report for 1909, Mr. Guyer's first year, shows 769 judgments, 3 writs of certiorari, 35 original writs, 1 Sci. Fa. Mechanics lien, 7 transcripts and 7 appeals; total of entries, 822. County's share of surplus, $138.45. These figures do not show that there were fewer entries during Mr. Guyer's first year than during Mr. Derrick's, but they do show that the county's share of the surplus was less.

Take their second years: In 1907 Mr. Derrick had 615 judgments, 4 writs of certiorari, 44 original writs, 7 transcripts and 10 appeals, a total of 680 entries. The county's share of the surplus was $415.73.

During 1910 Mr. Guyer had 610 judgments, 6 writs of certiorari, 41 original writs, 13 transcripts and 20 appeals, a total of 690 entries, and the county's share of the surplus was $254.68.

During their first two years, Mr. Derrick had a total of 1,393 entries and paid to the county $823.74, while Mr. Guyer had 1,512 entries and paid the county but $393.13. How does this tally with Mr. Guyer's statement?

To sum up, then, during their first two years Mr. Guyer had 121 entries more than Mr. Derrick for the same length of time but turned over to the county $430.61 less than Mr. Derrick.

In 1908 Mr. Derrick turned over $743.41 as the county's one-half of the surplus over $2,000. This was Mr. Derrick's third year, but as Mr. Guyer's third year is not yet completed, no comparison can be made.

Both candidates have served in the office and have made records. Examine these records, Mr. Voter, and do your duty on Tuesday by voting for the one who, with less entries, paid the most money to the county. Business methods should be used in the Prothonotary's office. Mr. Derrick employed them and his record shows it. Vote for him.

MR. HENDERSON ANSWERS

Almshouse Steward Replies to Letter of Physician at the County Home Concerning "Elixer" and "Syrup White Pine."

In the issues of the Bedford Inquirer and Everett Republican of last week, Dr. A. C. Wolf, the physician at the Almshouse, attempted, over his own signature, to explain why the money of the taxpayers of Bedford County was expended for whiskey at $3.00 a gallon, which was labeled Elixer Gentian and Iron, and Syrup White Pine Compound, which explanation neither explains nor is in accordance with the facts.

Long ago Dr. Wolf ordered me, in the presence of my wife, to buy whiskey for the inmates when they needed it, which I did and of which the inmates were given when any was needed or prescribed. Why did he do this if what he ordered was for the inmates?

Furthermore, when it was necessary to have a nurse, if this whiskey was for the inmates, why did he direct her to come to me or my wife for whiskey and not tell her to get it from the bottles he had ordered and had labeled as Elixer Gentian and Syr. White Pine Comp.? Again, none of the inmates nor any strangers are ever allowed in the dispensary unless accompanied by the directors, the physician or myself, and whiskey there would be as safe under its own proper label as it would be mislabeled. In the dispensary there are closed cupboards in which the medicines are kept, and in which this "Elix. Gentian and Iron and Syr. White Pine Comp." were kept, where it was secure from the sight of the inmates or taxpayer. Does it not appear as though it was not the inmates or strangers whom it was intended to deceive, but that it was the steward and his family?

At a recent meeting of the Board of Poor Directors, Dr. Wolf said that the Directors, the Steward or the taxpayers had no business to know what he ordered, and that if he had any more ordering to do he would order it in the same way and label it to suit himself.

What right have the Directors of the Poor to permit the promiscuous ordering of drugs, which may come misbranded, by a physician? What right has the physician to try to deceive the Steward at the Almshouse, because the Steward is responsible for what comes there for the use of the inmates?

JOHN HENDERSON, Steward.

What Was the Instance?

Inquirer Tries to Practice Cunning on Voters.

Mr. Adam Shaffer, Republican candidate for Auditor, is a well known farmer of Bedford Township, and has served several terms as Auditor and has always proved himself a careful and competent official, saving the county several thousand dollars in one instance.—Bedford Inquirer, October 20

What was the "one instance"? Why does the Inquirer not name it? It is simply a "party right or wrong" trick. If it were true Mr. Shaffer should have full credit from The Gazette, but we fail to find the instance.

The records do show, however, that when Mr. Hershberger, the one Democratic Auditor, made the motion not to allow that Five Hundred Dollar Fee to Mr. Haderman for legal services for which he was paid a salary, Mr. Shaffer voted with the other Republican Auditor against the motion and Haderman got the fee.

The records also show that Mr. Baker, a Republican candidate for Director of the Poor, as County Commissioner signed the voucher for the fee, along with the other Republican Commissioner, Mr. Appleman, the Democratic Commissioner, refusing.

The records also show that the bridge, to get rid of which the county paid this fee, was laid out and recommended by George W. Cunard, the Republican candidate for County Surveyor, as one of the three viewers. What a recommendation for Shaffer, Baker and Cunard!

REMOVING THE INSANE

Our Weak-Minded Almshouse Inmates Could Have Been Sent to Harrisburg Without Expense to County.

H. C. James, Atty. Poor Directors.
Bedford, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

With regard to the Insane Department of the Bedford County Almshouse, I would advise you that its condition was investigated a number of years ago by the Committee on Lunacy and found unsuitable for the proper care of the insane.

Upon my recent visit on the 7th when you favored me with your company, I found the conditions unfit for the care of the insane, and by direction of the chairman of the Committee on Lunacy, Hon. Isaac Johnson, I hereby notify you that the insane department of the Bedford County Almshouse should be finally abolished. I would therefore recommend the removal of the patients at the earliest possible moment to the State Hospital at Harrisburg. I have had an interview with Dr. Orth and if you will put yourselves in communication with him he will send attendants to transfer these patients as soon as you notify him that you have authority from the Court to commit them to the State Hospital.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) FRANK WOODBY,
Secretary.

May 7th, 1908.

H. C. James, Esq.,
Atty. Poor Board.

Dear Sir:—

I will be very much obliged if you will let me know by return mail what progress you have made towards removing the insane patients from the Bedford County Almshouse, concerning which I wrote you April 16, 1908.

Very truly yours,
FRANK WOODBY,
Secretary.

bonds bearing 3 per cent. interest were paid off Early this year the County Commissioners were compelled to borrow from the banks at 4 1/2 per cent. and upon these loans the County Treasurer is entitled to his commission of 3 1/2 per cent.—the money thus raised costing the county the ruinous rate of 8 per cent.

The County Treasurer's commission is fixed by the County Commissioners and County Auditors. This arrangement has resulted in an increase in ten years, in the Treasurer's salary of 100 per cent.—that official now receiving about $5,000, a sum out of all proportion to the services rendered and beyond all reason in a county like Bedford, with less than 40,000 population. The increase over Mr. Filler's term is 14 2-7 per cent.

In 1909 the State Board of Charities condemned the insane department at the Almshouse, and under the law of 1836 all that was necessary was an order of the Court to remove the inmates to the State Hospital for the Insane at Harrisburg.

Joseph P. Imler, then Sheriff, in spite of the fact that a letter was received from the State Board of Charities advising that nurses and attendants would be sent from Harrisburg to remove these insane persons, had his attorney institute proceedings in lunacy and conveyed the lunatics to Harrisburg. He was not legally entitled to anything, but he charged the county more than $1,100, making his charges as if he had made 24 trips, when, as a matter of fact, he took them all in one day, in one car.

This same J. P. Imler is now a candidate for County Treasurer and brazenly asks the voters of the county to elect him to this important office.

David S. Hengst, who pulled off the 8 per cent financial stunt was one of the Commissioners who compromised with Imler, who helped raise the tax rate 8 mills and is now asking you to re-elect him for four years.

Albert Guyer, Prothonotary, who has grossly neglected his official duties, is a son of John S. Guyer, who was County Treasurer from 1903 to 1906. Albert is now asking you to complete ten years at the public crib by re-electing him for a four-year term

The Dodson family, father and son are also asking you to put them in the ten year class by electing Grant Sheriff.

Is it not time that these intolerable conditions should cease? Are there not enough real men in Bedford County to stop this graft, this abuse of official power, this flitching of hard-earned money from the people? Only a few years ago the county tax rate was four mills, then five and now eight mills. Give these men four years more of power and what will the rate be?

What will the county debt be?

Men with no business capacity, without ability to manage their own small affairs, are elected County Commissioners where the annual expenditures reach nearly $100,000. Is it any wonder the county pays eight per cent. for money and the county debt increases by leaps and bounds with nothing to show for it?

At the recent primary orders were sent out from some secret "Cabal" directing the defeat of certain candidates and men of integrity, ability and honesty were sacrificed—that grafters and men with unsavory records might be nominated. To elect some of these men would be monstrous.

House Cleaning Time is here—your last opportunity for four years. Turn out next Tuesday and snow under the tattooed "Gang" ticket—misnamed Republican. The tariff is not an issue this year. The issue is public decency and public honesty.

The Fusion ticket is made up of men successful in their own business affairs, independent, fair-minded. Men who wear the collar of no boss, men pledged to economical administration; to the reduction of taxes; men who will be true to your interests and true to themselves. By your votes give them a chance to show what they can do.

VETERAN EDITOR DEAD

Joseph Pulitzer, Proprietor of New York World

STRICKEN ON YACHT

A Noble Career—Born in Hungary—Became One of America's Greatest Journalists.

Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World, died of heart failure on Sunday, October 29, on board his yacht Liberty, in the harbor of Charleston, S. C., after an illness of two days.

Mr. Pulitzer, accompanied by his younger son Herbert left New York aboard his yacht October 20, intending to take a leisurely voyage to Jekyll Island, near Brunswick, Ga., where he had a winter home.

Aside from a heavy cold, Mr. Pulitzer was in his usual health when he left New York. He was taken ill on Friday as his yacht put into Charleston. His illness proving to be serious, a telegram was sent to his wife who left New York for Charleston on Saturday, arriving shortly before he died. The body was taken to New York on Monday.

Served in Union Army
For more than a quarter of a century, Joseph Pulitzer had been one of the leading figures in American journalism. Born in Hungary in 1847 and educated there, he came to this country in 1863, enlisted in the Union army, and served as a cavalryman until the end of the war, when he settled in St. Louis, which was for many years to be the scene of his journalistic activities. His early newspaper training was as a reporter and afterwards city editor, managing editor and part proprietor of the Westliche Post, edited by Carl Schurz. He bought the St. Louis Dispatch in 1878 and united it with the Post as the Post-Dispatch, which under his management, became in a few years one of the best known and most widely circulated journals of the section.

Mr. Pulitzer's entry into New York journalism occurred in 1883 when he bought the World, then a paper of small circulation. Its circulation and prestige grew rapidly under his general direction. A building to house it, which he erected in 1890 on Park Row, was, until overtopped by the skyscrapers of later years, one of the most striking of New York's office buildings.

His Sun Sets Forever On Far-Off Bosphorus

Late one afternoon 22 years ago Pulitzer, then but 42 years old, was leaning on the rail of a yacht as the boat was standing out on the Bosphorus and into the Black sea, looking toward the setting sun through eyes which for years had been strained over copy desk and proof.

"Has the sun set so soon?" Mr. Pulitzer asked suddenly of his secretary.

"Not quite, Mr. Pulitzer," was the reply.

"It has," the editor insisted. "It has for me."

Mr. Pulitzer had been able vaguely to distinguish various objects before him, although each day the haze before him had been growing thicker. Now he was able only to tell vaguely daylight from night.

And for the past 20 years, almost up to the moment of his death, he has been in constant touch with the morning and evening side of his New York World and Post Dispatch of St. Louis, personally, during his short and infrequent visits to Manhattan, and by telegraph or cable while cruising here and abroad on his yacht.

Mr. Pulitzer's father was a Hungarian Jew, his mother a Catholic. He was born in Budapest April 10, 1847. During his childhood in Hungary he received some education. Forty-seven years ago he landed at Boston, a tall lean youth over six feet in height, and went to New York with a 20-franc piece as his sole possession. At the time of his death his wealth is estimated as more than $20,000,000.

Had Long Been An Invalid

Mr. Pulitzer's sight began to fail him in the late eighties and after a time he became totally blind. Ever since, he had been a partial invalid, but up to the last had kept general supervision over his newspaper properties in New York and in St. Louis and taken pronounced interest in civic affairs. Much of his wealth has been given for educational purposes. He donated $1,000,000 to Columbia College to establish and maintain a college of journalism and established scholarships in that institution for deserving boy graduates of New York public schools.

During his residence in Missouri Mr. Pulitzer served as a member of the Legislature and was a delegate from that State to the Democratic National Convention in 1880. He was elected to the Forty-Ninth Congress from a New York district, but resigned after a few months service.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Youth Wobbles Right

Every now and then some one with more head for figures than heart for humor discovers that some hundreds or thousands or millions of our youngsters "go wrong" every year. The numbers vary, but they are always appalling—almost as appalling as the rhetoric which always accompanies them. Sometimes the schools are blamed for this condition. Sometimes the curse is laid at the door of the moving-picture shows. Sometimes it is charged to the "suffragette" movement, and every now and then some one connects our awful depravity with the cigarette. Whatever the cause, we are uniformly assured that only by reversing pretty much all our present system of living can we escape the destruction which doth wait upon iniquity.

The figures cited by these prophets of woe are guesses. To contradict them would, in most cases, do no more than set one guess against another. It is more profitable, more comforting, and a million times more true, to point out that the vast majority of youngsters who "go wrong" end by going right. This is no brief for the wild-oats theory of ethics. It is merely a statement of fact. Youth is health at bottom. It is full of vagaries, empty of caution—else it would not be youth. But basically it is sound, with a store of moral health that the Jeremiahs of the lecture-room never dream of. It may, and does, wobble sadly at times; but, at the worst, it tends to wobble right.

PLANTING A YOUNG ORCHARD

Laying Out Ground and Best Varieties of Fruit.

The editor of a prominent newspaper in Western Pennsylvania wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, asking him how he could lay out his orchard of eight acres in such a way that the trees would be planted a suitable distance apart for the different varieties, and at the same time would stand in straight rows, which could be cultivated each way.

He also asked for a list of fruits of various kinds to plant.

The reply is based on practical experience, and contains suggestions which may be helpful to many persons who wish to plant home orchards. It is as follows:

Replying to your letter asking about planting your eight acres in fruits in such a way as to have straight rows throughout when the planting is finished, I beg to say that your best plan will be to plant your permanent apple trees forty feet apart. Half way between these, or twenty feet apart, plant your peach, plum and cherry. Half way between these, or ten feet apart, you can grow quince, dwarf pear and grapes. Half way between these again you can plant gooseberries, currants, raspberries, blackberries and strawberries.

Your fillers in each instance can extend in each direction between any of the others. I am aware that there is a little difference in authorities as to the distance of planting, but I am satisfied that the standard distance for apple in good soil should not be less than forty feet, while a very safe and practical distance for planting peach, pear, cherry and plum is twenty feet. Further than this, I am at present growing dwarf pear trees ten feet apart, and half way between the standard trees planted twenty feet apart. Again half way between these dwarf pear trees I have my currant and gooseberry bushes, as suggested above. I am well satisfied with this arrangement. In fact, you can put a row of gooseberries each direction between the currants and pear trees, if you wish. By a narrow cultivator you can keep them all cultivated, which will be best for all the trees and plants. This will also permit you to cultivate them in each direction.

The varieties of apples that I region are as follows: Yellow Trans would suggest for home use for your parent, Red Astrachan, Summer Rambo, Maiden Blush, Smokehouse, Jonathan, Grimes Golden, Rome Beauty and Stayman's Winesap. The Stayman will perhaps prove to be your best winter apple. A few others seem to do well in that region. If you have elevated ground, the Baldwin will thrive there. The Winter Banana is also planted southward from you quite extensively.

For a commercial orchard I would greatly reduce the number of varieties, holding chiefly to Jonathan, Rome Beauty and Stayman's Winesap, with some Summer Rambo. For pears the best varieties are the Bartlett, Seckel, Lawrence, and Duchesse. The latter is the variety to use as a dwarf pear.

The best commercial peach is the Elberta, and it would be well to plant the following:

Champion, Mountain Rose, Elberta, Old Mixon Free, Late Crawford, Fox's Seedling, Smock, Reeve's Favorite and Wonderful are also first class peaches.

For home use I would recommend the planting of some earlier varieties than these.

For plums the German Prune, Lombard, Abundance, Shipper's Pride, Burbank, Damson and Yellow Egg are all to be recommended and different varieties are found profitable by different persons.

For cherries the best sour cherry is the Montmorency Improved. Early Richmond is also to be recommended.

Among the good sweet cherries are the Ida, Governor Wood, May Duke and Bigarreau.

I recommend fall planting if it is done properly. While planting with dynamite is getting to be quite a fad, because new, it has not been sufficiently tested to be proven universally beneficial. There are some cases in which it would no doubt prove helpful, but no one can say whether it would be beneficial or injurious, and in your particular case you should understand the circumstances there.

For any pain, from top to toe, from any cause, apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Pain can't stay where it is used.

Shifting Ministers.

One of Wesley's reasons for shifting his preachers every three years was avowedly that they might be able to preach the same sermon over again to different congregations. He knew by experience the difficulty of sermon making. After a few weeks, he said, a preacher cannot find matter for preaching every morning and evening, "nor will the people come to hear him, whereas if he never stays more than a fortnight in one place he will find plenty of matter, and the people will hear him gladly. I know that were I to preach one whole year in one place I should preach both myself and my congregation to sleep."

Caring For Teeth

Nothing enhances the face so much as nice, even white teeth, and everyone can have such in these days of wonderful dentistry. Every mother should look after her child in the first place to see that the teeth come in straight. This can be done by having each of the first teeth removed at just the right time when the one which is to replace it is coming, otherwise the permanent tooth will not have a place to grow into. If the teeth have come in crooked and overlapping, it is easy to have them straightened before one is too old. The earlier in life which it can be done the easier it will be. The teeth should be kept spotlessly clean and as white as possible. Brushing alone will not accomplish this. Once in two or three weeks take an orange-wood stick, and with a little powdered pumice-stone go over them, removing any spots. To have good teeth, to prevent them from decaying and incurring heavy dentist's bills, keep them clean. "Health and Good Looks," in The Ladies' World for November.

Pit Brow Lasses.

How difficult it is to make laws to suit everybody is illustrated again in the tale which comes from England about the lassies of Lancashire. The poor slaves! They spend their young lives pushing heavy coal tubs to the pit brow o the mines. No decent civilization would permit its women to be so injured! So the philanthropists argued, and straightway a bill was passed forbidding the employment of women at the pit brows. But were the beneficiaries grateful? Not at all. They protested. A deputation of them traveled to London under the aegis of the mayor and mayor's wife of Wigan to urge the repeal of the law! "They all looked healthy," says the report, "and well dressed for their station." They are quite able to do the work, they protested, and do not want any benevolent Parliamentary intervention in their behalf.

HAIR HINTS

Worthy the Attention of People Who Wish to Preserve the Hair.

Have your own brush and comb at home and at hair dressers. Never use a brush or comb in public places, they are usually covered with dandruff germs.

Wash your hair brush once a week with soap and warm water to which is added a disinfectant.

Shampoo the hair once a week with pure soap and water.

Use PARISIAN SAGE every day, rubbing thoroughly into scalp.

PARISIAN SAGE is guaranteed by F. W. Jordan to destroy dandruff germs and abolish dandruff, or money back.

To stop hair from falling and scalp from itching, or money back.

To put life and beauty into dull, faded hair, or money back. Price 50 cents.

Are Fishes Mirrors?

A scientist says he always fancied little fish were protected against the mouths of the big fish chiefly by their markings looking like the stones and reeds in the water, but he now concludes that all shining, silvery fish are mirrors, reflecting the dark bottom of the pond, and it is only when such fish come to the surface that the light shines on them, and they become visible to the big fish that they prey on little fish. So long as the little, silvery fish stay close to the bottom they look like mud and stones, only showing their shining silver when they come near the top and so are soon swallowed down.

A HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE

That stops coughs quickly and cures colds is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Mrs. Anna Pelzer, 2526 Jefferson St., So. Omaha, Neb., says: "I am recommending Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as a sure cure for coughs and colds. It cured my daughter of a bad cold and my neighbor, Mrs. Benson, cured herself and her whole family with Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Everyone in our neighborhood speaks highly of it." Ed. D. Heckerman.

KEPT ABOVE GROUND.

Ingenious Way Major Hook Evaded the Terms of a Will.

Among ingenious ways of evading a will the plan followed by Major Hook and recorded in "Ancient, Curious and Famous Wills" may be commended:

A county newspaper some years ago recorded the death of a Major Hook and spoke of him as "a singular character." "He died," says the report, "on Monday sunnigh at his house, Ham street, Ham common. He was an officer in the East India company's service and reached the age of seventy-five. His house was remarkable for its dingy and dilapidated condition."

His wife had become entitled to a life annuity, bequeathed to her in these ambiguous terms: "And the same shall be paid to her as long as she is above ground." When, therefore, the good lady died her husband very naturally objected to forfeit his income by putting her below ground and ingeniously devised a mode of keeping her in a room which he allotted "to her sole and separate use," placing a glass case over her remains. For thirty years he thus prolonged his enjoyment, if not of his wife's society, at least of her income.

Da Vinci's Writings.

Although Leonardo da Vinci was a voluminous writer, he never published a single line during his lifetime. After the master's death in France his manuscripts were taken back to Italy. His heirs proved unworthy, and the precious writings were gradually dispersed. Loose pages were often detached and were either given away as relics or stolen. No attempt was made to publish any of his treatises, except that on painting, for more than 300 years after his death. This was partly owing to the great difficulty of deciphering his handwriting. Da Vinci was left handed and always wrote in oriental fashion, from right to left. Besides this, his orthography is peculiar to himself. He abbreviates some words and joins others together and employs neither stops nor accents.—London Chronicle.

The Flag at Trenton.

The flag "that Washington had with him when he crossed the Delaware to attack Trenton" was not the "stars and stripes." Washington crossed the Delaware in December, 1776, and the stars and stripes did not have an existence until the June of 1777, when it was voted into being by the congress. The flag that waved over General Washington on his way to and from Trenton consisted of thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, as at present, with a blue canton emblazoned with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, as in the British flag. The first time the present stars and stripes were sung to the breeze was on the day of the battle of Oriskany at Fort Stanwix, Aug. 6, 1777.—New York American.

Bad Shots.

A certain Yankee was touring through Devonshire, and, calling at an inn, he ordered some of the famous cider. Not finding it to be what he had expected, he inquired how it was made.

"Oh," said the publican, "we stood a barrel of water at one end of a room and threw apples at it."

This caused a general laugh, but the Yankee was equal to the occasion. "Waal," he said, "I guess you didn't hit it very often."—London Ideas.

Ways of the Oyster.

Oysters after they have been brought away from the sea know by instinct the exact hour when the tide is rising and approaching their beds and so of their own accord open their shells to receive the food from the sea as if they were still at home.—London Telegraph.

It Reminded Him.

"I have seen in my journeys several tribes," said the traveler, "who voluntarily undergo all sorts of self inflicted lacerations."

"That's nothing," answered Mr. Tutt. "I know a lot of people who insist on shaving themselves alive."

Great Little Sight.

"Where are you going so fast?" "My wife has just telephoned me that the baby is asleep, and I am going home to see what it looks like."—Toledo Blade.

That Explains.

"I have a dog and a hen which are fast friends. Isn't that queer?" "I don't think so—merely natural affinity."

"In what way?" "I believe your hen and your dog are both setters."

Squinting.

I heard recently of a mother who smacked her small boy because he squinted. She remarked that if that would not cure the child she did not know what would.

She evidently had no idea that squinting is a nervous affection (unless it comes from a deformity of the eye, which generally can be cured by operation), and that sometimes it is a symptom of serious brain disorder. Most of the "ugly tricks" that children develop in childhood are simply the result of "nerves" and to attempt to cure them by nagging scolding or smacking is about the worst possible way to set about it.

It is very important that they should be remedied, however, because sometimes these tricks have lasting impressions that endure even into adult life, and spoil the appearance or the manners—or perhaps both—and also may considerably injure the health.—Exchange.

BIDDY AT BIRD WORK.

There are no bugs on you, of course not; but, oh, the garden! Root maggot are eating the onions, green worms are chewing the cabbage, beetles are gobbling the asparagus, lice are after the lettuce, snails are spoiling the celery, fleas are chewing the tomatoes, wireworms are boring the potatoes, slugs are after the beans, cutworms are swiping the corn, striped beetles are killing the cucumbers, grubs are after the strawberries, gliders are killing the raspberries, and red spiders are on the rose.

And, oh, the orchard! Steely beetles are after the grapevine, cankerworms millions of quacks, geese, guineas and gobblers are after the pests. This pays in many ways.

The catcher gets delight from the bug bite. The bug makes meat that's a delight, and the pest quick disappears from sight.

The more poultry the less bughouse and the more money from fowls and fruit.

The fowls, digging around the tree, not only get larvae, bugs and wigglers, but cultivate the orchards, so that trees that grew a crop but every other year have been known to bear a big crop annually through the beneficial presence of poultry.

DON'TS.

Don't fail to separate the market and breeding turkeys and feed them different rations.

Don't fail to note the market's demands. There's a season for broilers, roasters, capons, ducks, geese and turkeys, and if what you offer is not seasonable you will have to take any old price.

Don't make a contract to deliver so many eggs a week unless you are positively prepared to do the stunt. A failure to meet such an engagement will cause inconvenience and disgust a customer.

Don't haggle that hen with a dull, rusty hatchet. Give her a quick, slick stick—that's the trick. A cut across the arteries of the throat and a stick through the brain is best the way to do it.

Don't use stained cardboard in your egg crates, and never ship cracked eggs unless sold as such. It pays to win a reputation for reliability, fine goods done up in best style with your trade, whether wholesale or retail.

FREE IF IT FAILS

Your Money Back if You Are Not Satisfied with the Medicine We Recommend.

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate, and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being eaten like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons, and old folks, as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety, and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Bedford only at our store—The Rexall Store. F. W. Jordan.

Then and Now.

Prior to the last 15 years, by the time people had attained their first quarter of a century, they considered themselves pretty much formed as to physical and mental characteristics. If they were ambitious and energetic they perhaps carried on some kind of exercise for their physical well-being, and guarded against mental deterioration as they advanced in years by occasionally taking up new studies or reviewing old ones; as a dear old lady of my acquaintance at the age of eighty-nine began to review her algebra to keep her mind active.

Now everything is changed. We cannot settle down comfortably in the thought of anything in the regular routine of life which we may not be called upon to alter at a moment's notice. Most of us have found that few of our established habits are right and that unless we are willing to be left hopelessly behind our associates we must learn over again all that we acquired in infancy, and that has since become a matter of automatic action.—The Atlantic.

Where Wesley Wrote Hymns.

The Rev. J. H. Wicksteed, vicar of Bexley, Kent, England, has presented to the Wesleyan Methodists of Gravesend and Dartford circuit a tree from the vicarage garden, a sapling of the old oak under whose branches John and Charles Wesley, with George Whitefield, often met in friendly conference.

It is believed that Charles Wesley composed some of his hymns under its shadow, and John, in his diary of September 22, 1740, writes: "I went to Mr. Piers, the vicar of Bexley, where in the mornings and evenings I expounded the sermon on the mount and had leisure during the rest of the day for business of other kinds." He was there again Saturday, December 11, 1740, and preached about 11

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of it in Bedford But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help. Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble.

It is the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Otto Henschke, First Ave., Hyndman, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions for lame back and other kidney disorders and they have never failed to give me relief. In October 1907, my wife publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in my behalf and at this time I am pleased to confirm that statement. This preparation is the best one I ever took for kidney disorders."

JOSEPH P. IMLER

A Glance at the Record of the Republican Candidate for County Treasurer When He Was Sheriff of Bedford County.

When Joseph P. Imler was a candidate on the Republican ticket for Sheriff of Bedford County several years ago, The Gazette, though advocating the election of his opponent, said not one word derogatory to Mr. Imler. He was elected to the office and his official career while serving as Sheriff is now a matter of record and may be examined by any citizen who cares to do so.

After his term of office had expired he appealed from the report of the County Auditors and endeavored to collect from the County of Bedford—to take from your pockets, Taxpayers of Bedford County—ONE THOUSAND ONE HUNDRED NINETEEN DOLLARS AND FOURTEEN CENTS for taking twenty-four unfortunate inmates of the insane department at the Alms House to the Asylum at Harrisburg. Is this the stripe of man that you, Mr. Voter, wish to see placed in the office of County Treasurer?

Below we give the court record of his suit against the county and his itemized bill as it appears of record for transferring the unfortunate insane to Harrisburg:

COPY OF DOCKET ENTRIES.

Joseph P. Imler vs. The County of Bedford.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford County. No. 243 September Term, 1909.

Appeal by Plaintiff, as Ex-Sheriff, from the Report of County Auditors, per appeal and bond filed April 5, 1909. April 19, 1909, Request of the County of Bedford for framing an issue filed. May 26, 1909, issue awarded and Joseph P. Imler is made Plaintiff and County of Bedford Defendant. See Argument Docket No. 4, page 31. July 15, 1909, Rule to declare Ex 2 copies. January 3, 1910, Alias Rule to declare Ex 2 copies. January 31, 1910, Plaintiff's statement filed, and claims the sum of $1,119.14 for fees for conveying 24 inmates of the Alms House to the Insane Department at Harrisburg. March 10, 1910, Defendant's Pleas filed. April 18, 1910, Amended Pleas filed. April —, 1910, Continued. September —, 1910, Continued. And now November 3, 1910, the above case compromised and settled, the County of Bedford to pay the Plaintiff $469.20, which is accepted in full compromise and settlement of all matters in dispute between the parties. Plaintiff not to file any costs for witnesses, and the Defendant to pay the record costs.

Agreed by

JOSEPH P. IMLER, Plaintiff.

It will be noted from the above, all of which is copied from court records, that Mr. Imler attempted to collect mileage at the rate of 10c per mile just as though he had taken the unfortunates to the asylum one at a time, whereas he made but one trip.

Ponder, Mr. Voter, the figures, before you cast your vote!

Having 24 persons to look after it was right that he should have a number of assistants to care for those in his charge, but when he attempted to collect 24 times $31.20 as mileage for making one trip, he stepped beyond all limits! Then, too, he collected 6c per mile for each of the patients, who only made the trip one way, and transportation on any railroad on earth may be gotten for 3c per mile.

Mr. Imler made the appeal from the Auditors' report in April 1909, but the matter was not speedily settled and forgotten as he desired; in May of that year an issue was awarded; his statement was filed in January of the following year; the defendant's pleas were filed in March, and amended pleas in April, when the case was continued, and it was again continued in September. This continuing was throwing the matter too close to the present campaign; he had started to electioneer for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer, and in November 1910 he settled the case for $469.20, which was a deduction of $649.94 from his bill. What admission on his part was his willingness to settle for $649.94 less than his bill?

What think you, Mr. Voter, of the matter?

John Fletcher, the Democratic nominee for the place, is a man whose integrity cannot be questioned, and he is qualified to fill the position with credit to himself and his county.

For whom will you vote for County Treasurer.

The borough ticket is made up of men capable of filling the offices and it should be upheld by Democrats. Capable officials in borough offices are as important as in the affairs of the county.

PRACTICING ITS PRINCIPLES

If there were those who thought that the "party right or wrong" declaration of the Bedford Inquirer was but a slip of the pen, they will be convinced that that Reynolds' journal means to "practice what it preaches."

On Wednesday John Henderson, Steward at the Almshouse, took to the Inquirer office a reply to the letter of the Almshouse physician in the issue of last week and asked that it be published. The editor told him that it would cost him 10 cents a line. Mr. Henderson left the article to be published on those conditions.

Later in the day the editor handed him the article and stated that he had no room for it. He had "consulted" and the article was found not to coincide with the "party right or wrong" doctrine and was rejected.

Have conditions in this county reached the stage when voters will sanction such action and vote to continue the gang represented by that paper in power?

LOOKING BACKWARD

Most of the present Republican candidates for county offices are holding or have held public office. The questions for the voters to consider are, Have they been found faithful to their trust?

Joseph P. Imler, candidate for County Treasurer, was Sheriff for three years, and made a record. Read that record in this issue.

John Fletcher never held a county office but is qualified to do so and his integrity is above reproach.

Albert S. Guyer is at present a candidate for re-election as Prothonotary. Compare his record with that of George W. Derrick who also has served in the office. When Derrick was Prothonotary business methods were used and the comparison in this issue tells the story.

J. D. James as Register and Recorder has acted by the motto "party right or wrong" and is even now doing so (See Register's Notices in this issue.) William T. Benner will serve County not Party.

Grant Dodson has twice been Deputy Sheriff and as many times has his father been Sheriff. Grant can wait now, an intermission won't hurt him. Dr. A. Enfield was Sheriff a number of years ago and was a good official. He is a veteran of the Civil War and has done much in many parts of the county for humanity. He should be elected; the house-cleaning should be complete.

B. F. Madore, the candidate on the Democratic ticket, is a close student of law and attends strictly to business. Mr. Reiley is the candidate of the party whose motto is "My party right or wrong." Shall this be carried into the court?

David S. Hengst has served a term as County Commissioner. He was present at Bolger's Banquet and voted to increase Mr. Bolger's salary Fourteen and Two-Sevenths per cent.

Thomas N. Imler has not held a county office to our knowledge but has a record not found among the LOCAL court papers.

Nevin Diehl, one of the Democratic candidates for Commissioner, needs no comment. He is well fitted for the place and his election is sure.

William F. Easter is the Democratic nominee and C. W. Blackburn is the nominee of the Keystone and Prohibition parties. According to an agreement well understood the one having the greatest number of votes on the three tickets was to be the nominee and all others were to withdraw. Mr. Easter signed the agreement, Mr. Blackburn did not. We were disposed to think Mr. Easter should get off. The matter became personal between them. Mr. Easter would not withdraw because Mr. Blackburn had not signed the agreement. Following our suggestion of last week, Mr. Easter was satisfied to withdraw if Mr. Blackburn would, in favor of the next highest man on the ticket. Blackburn refused. It is a case of "goose for goose." Decide for yourself, Mr. Democratic voter. We believe the best way out is to vote the straight Democratic ticket.

S. S. Baker, one of the Republican candidates for Poor Director, was once County Commissioner and cast the deciding vote to grant that $500 Fee. John W. May, the other Republican candidate, was, it is true, once policeman here and arrested a man for "Violating the law and tearing my wesket." Bedford County doesn't need him as a "purchasing agent."

Cessna and Brumbaugh are good men and will conduct the affairs at the Almshouse in a business like manner

McMullin and Shaffer are the Republican candidates for County Auditor. Both have served in the office; one voted to pass that $500 voucher and the other attended Bolger's Banquet and voted to increase Bolger's salary 14 2-7 per cent. Will the voters sanction their return or vote for Barton and Bennett, who are capable and are not likely to be captivated by a banquet.

Mr. Cunard's record in locating and laying out that bridge to get rid of which cost the county that $500 fee, doesn't recommend him for County Surveyor, neither does the grading of a piece of bricked street in Bedford. Mr. Blackburn is accurate and competent, and can be depended upon to do his duty.

Dr. Campbell's record as Coroner is without fault. He lives in the section of the county where a Coroner is needed.

Vote the whole Democratic ticket.

JAMES' SHORT VOTE

In our issue of October 6 we called attention to the short vote of Mr. James at the primary. The Inquirer replied editorially, stating: "His total vote was less because he had no opposition and many Republican voters neglected to vote for him."

This hardly will account for his failing to secure the full vote by nearly 500. On the Democratic ticket there were three candidates who had no opposition but they received practically the same number of votes that were cast for other candidates.

Rather it is to be believed that Mr. James failed to secure the nearly 500 votes because that number of honest Republicans did not sanction his "party right or wrong" practice when sworn as a COUNTY OFFICIAL.

Letter From Mr. Easter

To the Voters of Bedford County:

In reply to Mr. C. W. Blackburn's article in last week's Gazette addressed to you, I want to repeat that there was an agreement between the candidates which I signed, but Mr. Blackburn refused to sign according to the agreement which was twenty-one days before the Primary, and only signed when he thought he had an advantage to do so, which was on the 9th day of October, nine days after the Primary was held.

While I considered I had the best right to the nomination, for the best interest of the ticket I agreed to withdraw if Mr. Blackburn would, and place the next highest candidate on the ticket. This Mr. Blackburn refused to do. Now, voters, this leaves me your candidate, and I ask your support, promising, if elected, to assist in running the county on an economical plan thereby saving your tax money. WM. F. EASTER.

Second Lieutenant Elected

Attorney D. C. Reiley was elected to the office of Second Lieutenant of Company L, 8th Regt. Inf., 4th Brig., N. G. P., Saturday night of last week, by the members of the Company. The election was conducted by Capt. Frederick A. Metzger and First Lieut. Harry E. Miller. Mr. Reiley received 24 votes out of 35 votes cast. Immediately after the election, Captain Metzger detailed First Lieutenant Miller, Sergeants Leonard, Hemming and Prosser to notify Mr. Reiley of his election and escort him to the Armory. These orders were promptly carried out and within twenty minutes Mr. Reiley was on the floor of the Armory being congratulated by the members of the Company as Second Lieutenant.

Lieutenant Reiley at once responded to a request from the Captain for remarks, which he did with a great deal of interest, pledging himself to assist the Company in any way to bring it up to a higher military standard, and expressing himself as having a desire from his early boyhood days to some time become a soldier.

With the organization of the commissioned officers of Company L there should be no reason why this Company should take a back seat at the Spring Inspection. We are informed that there is a vacancy in the ranks of the privates, and there will be more in the future. Let the young men of our town get busy and join the Company and render some military service while they are young and make a record that will never be forgotten by the people of Bedford. No higher nor honorable position in life can be sought for than that, of the military life.

Mrs. B. F. Meyers

Mrs. Susan Catharine, wife of Hon. B. F. Meyers, editor of the Star-Independent, Harrisburg, and formerly editor and publisher of The Gazette, died at their home on Front Street, Harrisburg, at 4.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 28, of a complication of troubles. She had been ill for the past five years and for the past two years she was confined to the house.

Mrs. Meyers was a member of a prominent Somerset family, a daughter of Jacob and Rosa Koontz and a sister of the late Hon. William H. Koontz. She was united in marriage in 1854 with Hon. B. F. Meyers, who, with two daughters and a son survive, as follows: Mrs. Rosa Myers Muma of Alabama, Mrs. Susan M. Africa and William K. Meyers, of Harrisburg.

For many years she was prominently connected with the work of St. Stephen's Church, Harrisburg. She was of a genial disposition and was ever ready to aid those in distress. She is remembered most kindly by many of the older people of Bedford. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. The officiating clergymen were the Rev. Rollin A. Sawyer, rector of St. Stephen's Church, and the Rt. Rev. James Henry Darlington, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese. Interment was made in the family mausoleum in Harrisburg Cemetery.

John I. Shingler of Altoona and Blanche I. Fuhr of Six Mile Run.

THE TWO TICKETS

The Republican ticket is composed of men who bear upon their banner "My party, right or wrong, but still my party."

The "battle cry" of the Democratic candidates is "Economy and honesty in public office." The first is for PARTY; the latter for COUNTY. Which shall it be, Mr. Taxpayer?

WHY THE EXPENSE?

A Taxpayer Questions Poor Directors.

Mr. Editor:—

I noticed in last week's Gazette an article on the cost of the commission to declare the 24 inmates of the Almshouse Insane Department insane.

I am informed there are two methods provided by law for declaring persons insane—the one is under the Act of 1869 and contemplates cases where persons become suddenly insane and the welfare of themselves and others requires their immediate restraint. Under this Act a lawyer, physician and layman are appointed as commissioners.

The other is under the Act of 1836, and provides for declaring persons insane in forma pauperis. By this Act a jury of six is called from the panel attending court and these with one of the Associate Judges compose the inquest, and the proceeding is attended with practically no expense save the fees of the Prothonotary for filing the petition for and return of the inquest.

But the insane at the Almshouse were not violent and they were already in restraint. Why then the expense of a proceeding under a law which did not apply to the case when the same end could have been accomplished under the Act of 1836 at a probable expense of $2. I call on the Directors of the Poor to explain why they would conduct proceedings for which the bill of the costs presented amounted to $61.50 when the same result could have been reached at a probable expense of $2.

And added to all this unnecessary expense is that awful bill of Sheriff Imler, now candidate for County Treasurer, for the commitment of these insane to the State Lunatic Hospital at Harrisburg, not one cent of which would have been necessary had instructions from the State Lunacy Commission been followed. Is it any wonder that our county tax rate is 8 mills?

I appeal to all honest citizens that the time has come when not only the Almshouse but the Court House as well should be cleared of incompetent officials. Another-Taxpayer.

DR. AMERICUS ENFIELD

The Only Civil War Veteran on the Ticket.

Dr. Americus Enfield, the candidate for Sheriff, is the friend of every person. He is the only Civil War veteran on the fusion ticket, and feels confident of his election. He was nominated by a large majority of the Democratic voters at the primary and since then the Keystone and Prohibitionists have endorsed him. Dr. Enfield is a clean, honest, upright, Christian gentleman, and worthy of the confidence of the people.

He is liberal, broad-minded and big hearted, and is always ready and willing to help humanity and better the world's condition. He is well known to the people of the county, as he was Sheriff from 1882 to 1885. He has made a clean canvass of the county. The people like him and will vote for his election next Tuesday, November 7.

Edward Hair to George H. Appleman, 2 acres, 114 perches in Bloomfield; $80.

WILLIAM T. BENNER

Fusion Candidate for Register and Recorder.

Mr. Benner is well qualified to fill the office of Register and Recorder. If elected he will serve the whole people of the county faithfully and well.

He should be placed in the position now held by Mr. James, who has demonstrated that he sanctions the motto "party right or wrong," by trying to conceal the transactions of his office from the Democrats of the county.

JOHN FLETCHER

Democratic Candidate for County Treasurer.

John Fletcher, who opposes Mr. Imler for the office of County Treasurer, stands above reproach among his fellowmen

JOHN FLETCHER

He was born on a farm in Monroe Township, August 18, 1854, and has spent his life practically in that township. In his boyhood days he attended the public schools. He was a student under Former County Superintendent John H. Cessna and Prof. W. R. Vaughn, one of the finest educators this county ever produced. Thus he qualified himself for the duties of the office he is now seeking.

He has been engaged in farming, at which he has prospered, and has also dealt to some extent in stock. In all his dealings he is honest and straight, and will fill the office of County Treasurer with fidelity and to the entire satisfaction of all citizens, regardless of party affiliations.

Dr. F. S. Campbell

Dr. F. S. Campbell of Hopewell, the fusion candidate for Coroner, is a man of unquestioned integrity and a physician of ability. He was elected Coroner in 1905 and served during his term with credit to himself and his party and county.

Dr. Campbell lives in close proximity to the Broad Top coal mines where most of the fatal accidents occur and where a Coroner is needed. He is also on the line of the H. & B. T. Railroad and can reach any part of the county on short notice.

The voters of the county will make no mistake in electing Dr. Campbell by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

APPLES BEING SHIPPED

County Association Busy Packing and Labelling Fruit.

The association has begun shipping, and returns are satisfactory considering the present market. We have been getting 70c a bushel for clean, sound fruit, over and above cost of barrels, freight and commission; this while the buyers were paying 60c a hundred or 27c a bushel. If the buyers raise the price it simply means that the market has gone up; and we will get more money for our members.

The new labels are very simple. They state that the fruit is "The Same Size Top to Bottom;" and that gives the barrels an extra value in any market. We are using the corrugated pasteboard caps in most cases. They cost 3/4c each per barrel, and the labels cost about 1/4c, so that the cost of cap and label is about 1c extra per barrel. But the caps keep the face in so much better condition that it is a very good plan to use them. They can be bought of Coles & Company, New York City, at a cost of $6.75 per 1,000, plus freight.

The Fruit Shippers' Association is going to make much heavier shipments this year than last; and it is advisable for those who have not entered their fruit to do so at once, writing to W. F. Biddle, Everett R. D. 2, or to A. B. Ross, Schellsburg, Md. Ross is training the foremen, and has a record of applications as well as Mr. Biddle.

FIFTY YEARS MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. John Burket of This Place Celebrate Golden Wedding.

At their home on West Penn Street Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Burket celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. Over sixty-five guests, besides their children and grandchildren, were present. They received many handsome gifts, among them being about $85 in gold, and the dinner served in their honor consisted of all the good things of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Burket, whose maiden name was Rebecca Dodson, were married at Buffalo Mills and the only living married couple who witnessed that wedding is Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, of Buffalo Mills. Mr. Burket was for many years a foreman on the Bedford Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, but is now retired. He is also a veteran of the Civil War. They have five sons and three daughters living, all of whom were here for the golden wedding anniversary. The following guests were present:

Chief of Police Samuel McMullen and wife, of Windber; Rev. Henry Mowery and wife, of Buffalo Mills; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cuppett, of Johnstown; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Burket, Mann's Choice; Mrs. Lyle Dagutes of Hooversville; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dobson, of Stoyestown; Mr. and Mrs. George Ickes, of Meyersdale; Mr. J. T. Tenneson and Mrs. H. C. Prince, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Burket, of Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Burket, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burket and children, of Steckman; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Burket, of Altoona; Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Wolf and son, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank I. Horne, Mr. and Mrs. William Weyant, Mr. and Mrs. William Brice, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dodson, Mrs. Andrew Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Louise H. Barney

Miss Louise H. Barney died at her home in Clearville on Saturday, October 28, 1911, aged 30 years, three months and 20 days. She was a daughter of Rev. John H. and Elizabeth Barney and was born at Mt. Williams, Frederick County, Md., July 8, 1881. She is survived by her father, one brother, Prof. J. W. Barney, principal of the Defiance schools, and one half-brother, J. S. Barney, of Clearville.

The funeral services were held Monday morning, October 30, in the Union Church, Clearville, and were conducted by Rev. W. C. Garland of Cumberland, assisted by Rev. Hoffman of the Earlston Christian Church, and Revs. Sionaker, Guldin, Troutman and Hetrick, of Clearville.

Miss Barney was a faithful member of the Rock Hill Christian Church the past twelve years. She was the last person baptized by Rev. B. A. Cooper. She labored very acceptably in the Reformed Church at Clearville, teaching in the Sunday School and being its organist. The best eulogy that can be given was the unspoken one in the four hundred or more sympathizing hearts present at her funeral service.

HECKERMAN LETTER

"Dad" Gives Some Good Suggestions From "Old Kentucky."

Frankfort, Ky., October 30. This is about as quiet a town on Sunday as can be, much like our dear Bedford, only they have more paved streets than you. The country is of the best and none more beautiful can be found. Farm houses are the best, and with plenty of limestone, crushers and muscle, the roads are the best. 'Tis thirty-eight miles to Lexington and the road all the way is better than your brag state roads. The desire for progress, improvement and advancement of all kinds is much greater than ever before.

Kentucky occupies a central place in the great Mississippi Valley and no place that I know of shows such great improvement and activity, as the section lying between the Allegheny Mountains on the west and the Gulf of Mexico on the south. The people living here are awake to the fact that they are living in an age of progressiveness and the pulses of all have been quickened. 'Tis said that few states, if any, have such geological formations, such diversity of soils and such various attractions as Kentucky. The soil is very rich and will grow anything that is planted in Mother Earth and properly cared for. In Bedford County can be found better wheat and corn land, whilst the only place that can outshine Kentucky in raising tobacco, hemp and rye is Lancaster County, Pa. The location, the climate, the vast resources, the splendid bright men and the attractive women, all combined, show that there is everything here to make "the blue grass state" one of the greatest states of the Union, if proper efforts are made. One-third of all the tobacco and 90 per cent. of all the hemp grown in the United States is grown right here in Kentucky. Coal fields are unexcelled anywhere, while new oil fields are being opened every day. Coal is found in abundance in some parts of the state. This state has over 2,000 miles of rivers, including the Ohio and the Mississippi. Three thousand miles of railroads are ready today for carrying passengers. They do not run enough of trains to suit me, and last but not least her horses are of the finest and I don't care what you say.

This state also has great manufacturing interests. These are growing daily and being located as the state is between the northern lakes and the Gulf of Mexico and is destined, if from no other source, to make it a great manufacturing state.

Just now we are in the midst of a great political campaign. The Democrats have lost the state several times in late years, but it don't look that way now. Ex-Governor McCreary is again the Democratic candidate for that honor and if he were a few years younger, all creation could not keep him out of the gubernatorial chair. The tariff is the main issue and it won't harm any one of your readers to know of a few items that are all in favor of the rich and to the detriment of the man who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow. The tax on such clothing as is sold by your Bedford merchants is about 36 per cent.; on woolen and worsted goods, such as are worn by multitudes of women, is 45 per cent., while on fine silk costumes, as are worn by the rich is 50 per cent. On the plain, coarse blanket used in hundreds of homes to keep the family comfortable, it is 165 per cent., while on the finest and most costly blanket it is only 71 per cent. On carpets used by most of the people of Bedford County the duty is 127 per cent. and on that used in the homes of the wealthy it is 50 per cent.

Why not rub the scales from your eyes, vote the Democratic ticket and send Dr. Enfield back to jail, even if his family don't want you to? No better man for the office could be found. Whilst he can't regulate the tariff question he can and will help each voter in the county to do so. We all know that according to Democratic faith, in making all tariff schedules, the tariff tax should be the lowest on the actual necessities of life and highest on luxuries. A good law is that which benefits the greatest number of people.

Here are a few things each and every man desires to obtain as cheaply as possible:

A home for himself, wife and children, clothing to keep them warm and comfortable, edibles to feed them, farming implements and mechanical tools with which to labor, and yet today each and every one of the articles which it takes to fill the above four wishes of every good and true man are taxed far above his means.

Go to the polls next Tuesday and vote the full Democratic ticket and it will be a step toward reducing the high taxes on everything you do and almost on the very air you breathe.

Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

New Buena Vista

October 30—Jacob Newry of Kegg, one of the oldest residents of the community, passed to the Great Beyond on Monday, October 23, at the ripe age of 82 years, nine months and seven days. Several weeks ago he became ill of pneumonia which finally resulted in his death. He is survived by his aged wife and the following children: Samuel, John, Hayes and Frank, all of near here, and Mrs. Louis Hillegass and Mrs. Henry Hillegass who live near the old home. The funeral services were held at the Reformed Church, New Buena Vista, Wednesday morning, October 25, conducted by his pastor, Rev. C. Gumbert. Interment was made in the cemetery near Schellsburg.

Roy Turner has moved from Fyan to the Callihan farm, several miles south of New Buena Vista.

George Mowry and Miss Carrie Eilenberger were married in Johnstown on Thursday, October 19. The writer, through The Gazette, extends congratulations and best wishes.

Hunting season is but one day away. The nimrod will now get busy cleaning up the old gun ready for getting his share of the game, such as pheasants, squirrels, etc. By the way, the writer would like to see a law enacted prohibiting the shooting of quail. They are the farmers' best friend, and does he not realize the fact that they destroy many insect pests, also weed seeds, etc?

C. C. Long of this place spent a few days recently visiting his nephew, C. Howard Long, of Mornington, W. Va. He returned looking much younger and reports having a fine time. While absent he visited Fairmount, Wheeling, Cumberland and several other cities.

Jesse Turner, who lives several miles south of this place, has sold his farm to Louis Diehl of near here, and on Saturday, October 28, sold most of his personal property at public sale. He will move to Mann's Choice, his future home.

A FAMOUS LAWSUIT

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

The town of Bidwell, up in the New England hills, was a town of peace. It had been founded just forty years when its first real sensation came. One day Deacon Goodhue borrowed Deacon Hardman's garden hoe, and after using it a few minutes he broke it off at the shank. While he contended that it was old and rusty and ready to break, he offered to buy a new one to replace it. Much to his surprise, he was allowed to do so, and he went home to say to his wife:

"Martha, I've known Deacon Hardman for thirty years and have just found him out. He's a human hog, and if he ever goes to heaven I want to go somewhere else."

For two weeks after that the two deacons nodded coldly to each other whenever they met, and it gradually became known to Bidwell that their relations were strained. Then one morning Deacon Goodhue set out to drive five hogs over to the weighing scales. He had to pass the other deacon's house, and as he came along the gate was open, and all the hogs made a rush for it. He was trying to drive them out of Deacon Hardman's yard when the latter came out and said:

"By gum, Deacon Goodhue, but this is goin' too far—too far! You opened that gate and driv' your hogs in on me a-purpose!"

"I never did, and you know I didn't!" retorted Deacon Goodhue as he paused in his running.

"Yes, you did!"

"No, I didn't!"

"Do you call me a liar?"

"Yes, if you call me one."

"Take it back or I'll mop the ground with you!"

"Come out here and I'll make you see stars!"

Then and there the deacons clinched and rolled on the ground together, and they were choking each other and breathing hard when Moses Schemerhorn came along and separated them. Deacon Hardman went straight to Justice Somerfield and swore out a warrant for assault and battery.

Both men had their friends, and the public was divided. The only person who had witnessed the fracas was Deacon Hardman's wife, but there were other witnesses sworn.

Old Mrs. Taylor swore that she had always suspected Deacon Goodhue to be a man of violent temper and that he only needed to be kicked to become a murderer. Moses Hunt was a mile away that morning looking for his cow, but he swore that Deacon Hardman was the sort of man to lose his temper and do awful things if he found a strange hog rooting up his hollyhocks. Abner Crossman, who had known both parties for thirteen years, swore that he had known Deacon Goodhue to fall off a haystack, get mired in a swamp and fight bumblebees for half an hour without losing the smile on his face, and he could not believe that he had begun this fuss. Opposed to him was Trueheart Johnson, who said he had seen Deacon Hardman kicked head over heels by a cow, run over by a hog and knocked down by a ram and that he preserved a humble spirit throughout and even asked the cow to forgive him if he had hurt her feelings.

Mrs. Hardman's testimony was that she was washing the dishes after breakfast when she heard her husband give a grunt and rush from the house. She followed him to the door and heard and saw all that subsequently passed, though in such a nervous state that she could not be sure of anything. She felt almost sure that Deacon Goodhue said "by gum" and "devil" and "old ciank," but she wouldn't be positive of it. She was almost as sure that her husband started to sing a hymn and made some Scriptural quotation but she might have been mistaken. She was not sure who grabbed the other first, but she could swear on the living Bible that they had trodden all the cucumbers into the earth and broken down most of her tiger lilies.

It took two days to try the case, and meanwhile all business was suspended, including the sawmill. There was no jury, and when almost everybody in town had sworn on one side or the other Justice Somerfield put on his most dignified look and said:

"This case seems to go back to the hoe and to Deacon Goodhue's garden. Was there any need of the deacon working in his garden that day? What had become of his own hoe? Was the borrowed hoe rusty in the shank or was it not?"

"Then there were the hogs. Any man who had ever set out to drive one hog along the road, to say nothing about five, knew that the animal wouldn't go straight for a rod at a time. He wouldn't be a hog to pass an open gate without making a rush for the opening. As to whether the lie was actually given and who gave it first is a matter of doubt. The same is true as to who grabbed first, but there can be no possible doubt that many cucumbers and tiger lilies were destroyed and that Deacon Hardman emerged from the conflict with a skinned nose. Taken full and by and back and forth, it was about an even thing. The costs will be divided between them. Business resumed at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, and if either has any root beer in the cellar he will be expected to treat the other and both make up and let hoes and hogs go to grass forever more!"

"Aeropotomanie."

Some months ago a learned professor at the Sorbonne wrote to the Parisian papers proposing that the word "petomane" be used as a term to designate the aviator, the word petomane being based, he explained, on the Greek root "pet," to fly. Another learned person says that the word harks back to the earliest days of aerostation, and quotes from Der Deutsche Merkur (the German Mercury), published by Wieland at Weimar, in October, 1783, which speaks of "Aeropotomanie," or the latest progress in flying.

Beersheba is still an outpost of civilization against Bedouin tribes. Its commercial importance is increasing rapidly, owing to waterworks which draw their supply from seven wells mentioned in Genesis. That the historic East is gradually succumbing, however, to the progressive spirit of the West is indicated by the fact that a pumping plant has been erected over Abraham's well. When the railway system now under way has been completed, it will be possible to run trains from Paris to Damascus, Jerusalem, and Mecca itself.

Shine With Every Drink.

There have been in the history of barber shops such plans as "A shave and a shine all for a dime," "A haircut and a shine free," but it was left for a negro barber shop at 13 Ivy street to give a free shoe shine when a drink was paid for. That is, it was a Sunday blind tiger in which Will Strong, a bootblack, sold liquor and then gave his customer a free shine.

The police had suspected the barber shop for some time and on last Sunday they made a raid and found a large lot of whisky in pint bottles. Will Strong was in charge and was running a bootblack stand. He claimed that another negro had brought the whisky in to the shop without his knowing it. The Recorder sent Will Strong to the chain gang for thirty days.—Atlanta Constitution.

Lesson VI.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 5, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Est. iv, 10 to v, 3. Memory Verses, iv, 13, 14—Golden Text, Ps. cxlv, 20—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

As we have but one lesson in this wonderful portion of the Bible, we must try to get some idea of the whole book. It is the story of God watching over and providentially caring for His people, and, though He is not mentioned by name, He is seen working all through. The book ends most beautifully and suggestively with these words: "Mordcai the Jew was next unto King Ahasuerus and great among the Jews and accepted of the multitude of his brethren, seeking the wealth of his people and speaking peace to all his seed" (x, 3). We cannot but think of the kingdom of which this book is a historical and prophetic picture, illustrating the grace of God. Amos vi, 10, and Deut. xxxi, 17, 18, may possibly throw some light on the absence of any name of God in the book, and yet the name of Jehovah is really there four times in the form of an acrostic in the initial or final letters of four words in chapters 1, 20; v, 4, 13; vii, 7. See Dr. Bullinger's booklet. This one with a Hebrew Bible can easily verify. It is said that Dr. Ginsburg has discovered three ancient MSS. in which these acrostic letters are written in larger characters and in more prominent form. The absence of the name in any ordinary form suggests the lines: "Oh, blest is he to whom is given the instinct that can tell that God is on the field when He is most invisible" (Faber). "Most hidden, yet most manifest" (Augustine). Some one has said that it is the story of the people of God delivered from death by a mediator of the highest rank, who undertakes the greatest danger and is mysteriously one of them. The time of the story is supposed to be between Ez vi and vii. The principal truth seems to be that there is a God in history working out His good pleasure through human lives and ordinary means. "As one has said, 'All history is His story.' God and the devil are seen in conflict from Gen. iii to Rev. xx. Here it is Haman as the devil's man and Mordecai and Esther on the Lord's side.

Thus far in the story, up to our lesson today, we see the greatness of an earthly king and the magnificence of his kingdom; his ill treatment of a noble woman, put away, but remembered; the choice of another who required nothing but what was appointed for her (i, 19; ii, 1, 15); the faithful and unwavering interest of her guardian, Mordecai; the promotion of Haman and his plot to kill all the Jews. This brings us to the intercession of Esther in the lesson of today, in which she took the place of death to save the lives of her people (iv, 11). Our mediator actually died in our stead to deliver us from the curse of the law (Gal iii, 13; iv, 4, 5). The words in iv, 14, "Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" make us think of the words of the Lord Jesus, "For this cause came I unto this hour." "For this cause came I into the world" (John xii, 27; xviii, 37). If we are redeemed by the precious blood of Christ we may be certain that all our life is planned for us according to Eph. ii, 10, and concerning every occasion or opportunity we may be sure that it has been prepared for us; that in it, by dying to self, we may make manifest the life of Jesus (I Cor. iv, 10, 11; I Sam. x, 7).

If we are unwilling He will choose some willing vassal to accomplish his purpose, and the loss will be ours.

Esther sent word to Mordecai that he and all the Jews in Shushan should join her and her maidens in a three-days' fast and then she would go into the presence of the king on behalf of her people, even if it should mean death to her (iv, 15-17). On the third day she went to the king and obtained favor in his sight and the assurance that he would do for her whatever she asked, even to the half of his kingdom. Our Mediator, who is now in the presence of God for us, has given us all that is His and made us joint heirs with Himself. He takes every truly penitent sinner into full partnership with Himself, blotting out all that was against us and putting all His righteousness to our account, because He died for our sins and rose again the third day. If any are perplexed by the three days and nights of the body of Jesus Christ in the tomb and cannot work it in between Friday and the first day of the week let them find the key to the real meaning of the time in this story. They were to fast three days—night and day, and yet on the third day (not the fourth) she went to the king (iv, 16; v, 1).

The rest of the Esther story is thrilling as we read of Haman's gallows for Mordecai, his supposition that he was the man whom the king would deign to honor, the king's sleepless night, the record found in the book of the Chronicles concerning Mordecai Haman's being compelled to do it, Mordecai what he had longed to have done to himself, then his being hanged on the gallows he had prepared for Mordecai.

Now grand the statements of chapters viii, 16; ix, 8, margin. "The Jews had light, gladness and joy and honor." "Those who did the business that belonged to the king helped the Jews."

THEIR SINGING HARD LABOR

People of Star Island, Says Cella Thaxter, Grind Out Sounds With Tremendous Exertion.

Among people of average musical ability there is less singing than there used to be. Nearly everybody enjoys singing, and there was a time when nearly everybody was expected, on occasion, to sing. But from different causes—a more exacting standard, the rivalry of the phonograph, and other reasons—amateur singers are fewer than they were. It is a matter for regret from one point of view, and from another for rejoicing.

In a recently published letter, Cella Thaxter tells how some of the Star Island folks, during her long residence at the Isles of Shoals, used to sing.

"Their singing," she declared, "was truly astonishing. Indeed, I might say, excruciating. They go at it precisely as if they were sawing wood, and grind out the sounds with such exertion that their faces become crimson and the perspiration starts in beads on their foreheads."—Youth's Companion.

Bearded "Ladies."

Brandt, a Danish professor, comes to the conclusion that bearded ladies in time to come will be the order of the day. Ladies with beards are now to be seen may be regarded as the precursors of the future, and the professor comes to the conclusion that the more masculine an becomes in her habits so much more will she be in appearance. He does not think that bearded ladies become general until at least two centuries have elapsed. His investigations show that the number of women with traces of mustaches, although clearly visible, increases but slowly. The Paris contemporary from which we take the foregoing suggests the professor has missed the point which he might have made that is that as the number of women who shave increases daily it will follow that women would endeavor to grow beards from sheer necessity.

ALV:

THEIR SINGING HARD LABOR

People of Star Island, Says Cella Thaxter, Grind Out Sounds With Tremendous Exertion.

Among people of average musical ability there is less singing than there used to be. Nearly everybody enjoys singing, and there was a time when nearly everybody was expected, on occasion, to sing. But from different causes—a more exacting standard, the rivalry of the phonograph, and other reasons—amateur singers are fewer than they were. It is a matter for regret from one point of view, and from another for rejoicing.

In a recently published letter, Cella Thaxter tells how some of the Star Island folks, during her long residence at the Isles of Shoals, used to sing.

"Their singing," she declared, "was truly astonishing. Indeed, I might say, excruciating. They go at it precisely as if they were sawing wood, and grind out the sounds with such exertion that their faces become crimson and the perspiration starts in beads on their foreheads."—Youth's Companion.
